Property Monitoring

Stay informed about your property—long after closing powered by inHere

A simple way to stay connected to your home

After closing, most homeowners don't have visibility into activity related to their property.

Property Monitoring is a complimentary post-close service that helps keep you informed by sending email alerts when certain activity associated with your property is identified.

What You'll Receive

- You'll get email notifications if:
  - Certain documents are recorded on your property, such as a lien or deed
  - Your property is listed for sale on the MLS

Why It Matters

- Stay aware of changes related to your property
- Spot unexpected activity early
- Feel confident knowing you're informed over time

What to Expect

- You'll automatically be enrolled after closing
- You'll receive an introductory email within a month of closing
- Alerts will be sent if activity is identified
- You can opt out at any time

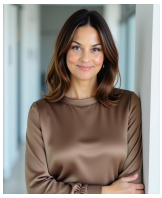

Good to Know

Title insurance protects against ownership issues arising before closing. Property Monitoring provides visibility after. Together, they help homeowners stay informed and act when it matters.

No cost. No sign-up. No extra steps.

This is a complimentary post-close service. There's nothing you need to do to get started.
